

Expression of Interest – Resource Review Group

Thank you for your interest in The Rights Path Project (TRPP). If you are a person with disability (or a carer/family member), speak one of these languages (Vietnamese, Khmer, Punjabi, and Urdu) or a NDIS provider and are based in Melbourne, Sydney/Newcastle, or Brisbane/Ipswich, please complete this form, and email it to trpp@ssi.org.au

The Rights Path Project (TRPP): Improving quality in NDIS services and supports.

The purpose of this project is to develop resources in Vietnamese, Khmer, Punjabi, and Urdu to:

- 1- Strengthen your understanding of your rights, and the quality of services you should expect to receive.
- 2- Improve your knowledge of how to raise concerns and provide feedback with your NDIS provider.
- 3- Work with NDIS providers to ensure they meet their responsibilities and strengthen their feedback and complaints pathways and promote participants rights by using the resources developed in this project.

Getting involved in the project.

You will be working with SSI as a member of the Resource Review Group to help review and provide feedback to the developed in-language resources for people with disability speaking the above listed languages.

*As a Resource Review Group Member with disability (or a carer/family member), you will be remunerated for your time and expertise.

* As a Resource Review Group Member Provider, you will be invited to undertake Culturally Responsive Practice training provided by SSI at no cost.

Your commitment will look like:

- You will be invited to test the developed resources from May-July as a member of Resource Review Group.
- Meetings will be online to ensure that all members across NSW, QLD and VIC can attend.
- The Resource Review Group will meet approximately 2-4 occasions during this time and each meeting will be a maximum of 2-hours duration.
